

Baptist Church Records

The Baptist religion was a religious minority in Poland, making it more difficult to know when and where records of this religion might be available. In an article from Rodziny, Summer 2011 by Iwona Dakiniewicz she talks about this minority and explains that this group came from East Prussia to the territory of Congress Poland in the mid 19th century. This group, as with many minority groups, found much persecution but they still managed to continue despite many trials that they faced.

Using the Polish State Archives website, it is easy to sort record types by religion. By doing this, you can search this group, as well as other religious groups together making it easy to find out which records still exist for a particular religious group. Below the available Baptist records have been organized by the archive and the archive contact information is also given. These records are not found in the Family History Library. The English version of the Pradziad database can be found at this link <http://baza.archiwa.gov.pl/sezam/pradziad.php?l=en> With each parish listing, the fond number and Archive contact information is given to help you with your Baptist research in Poland.
